

Psi Toys of the Golden Million

Author: Rekhtin A.V.

An international group of ufologists, who analyzed numerous failures in the operation of space technology, came to the conclusion that space exploration is hindered by alien civilizations. The reason for such conclusions was the numerous registrations of UFOs in the launch zone of spacecraft.

However, the Russian scientist A.M. Khatybov wrote that Ufology is "not a science, but a collection of statistical material (and, without meaning)". There are over 3,500 objects (UFOs) on Earth, which perform mainly control functions. You shouldn't dismiss them, but you can't turn them into show business either. 15 satellites of the planets plus the Moon have UFOs, but they cannot come to Earth - there are enough of their own there. Humanity can only dream of creating UFO-like apparatuses in the next 100 years, although the basic information is already there."

According to the basic provisions of the OFCH, A.M. Khatybov and B.V. Makov, there are no random and uncontrolled processes on Earth. The Control System (CPS) is engaged in the control of the occurrence of any processes on the planet. It is her system management that manifests itself in the actions of UFOs, but is far from being limited to these objects only.

Numerous facts of UFO involvement in space disasters over the past 5 years are widely known, and do not cause any conscientious doubts. The chaotic periodicity and the steadily increasing number of catastrophes forces any analyst to trace the development of an unhealthy trend.

The conclusions of ufologists do not take into account the conceptual alignment of world elites, socio-political processes, the depravity of the technocratic path of human development, and the interaction of the forces of nature with astronomical events. Therefore, their verdict is ridiculously simple - "aliens do not want the domination of earthlings in space, and therefore eliminate competition."

Any attempts to find a logical connection between the accidental, periodic crash of spacecraft launched from different cosmodromes, in different countries and by different companies and states, without understanding the essence of conceptual power, and the functions of the planetary control system, are doomed to bias and failure.

Professor V.A. Chudinov has advanced noticeably deeper than ufologists, having a unique ability to read energy flows from images, including those formed in the energy-information grids of the atmosphere and in near space, he has developed methods for converting these flows into a (albeit primitive) alphanumeric code. These qualities of reading information streams from a photograph of an object are not uncommon among psychics, but the ability to convert these streams into an alphanumeric code, which, when read normally, begins to amaze with logic and meaning, is truly a unique acquired quality of the brain of a real scientist.

Confirmation of the reality of V.A. Chudinov's methods can be served by the work of N.V. Levashov on the taming of Hurricane Charlie in 2004, during which random observers in the state of Florida testified to an optical effect called "The Hands of God" (a crumpling hurricane dough).

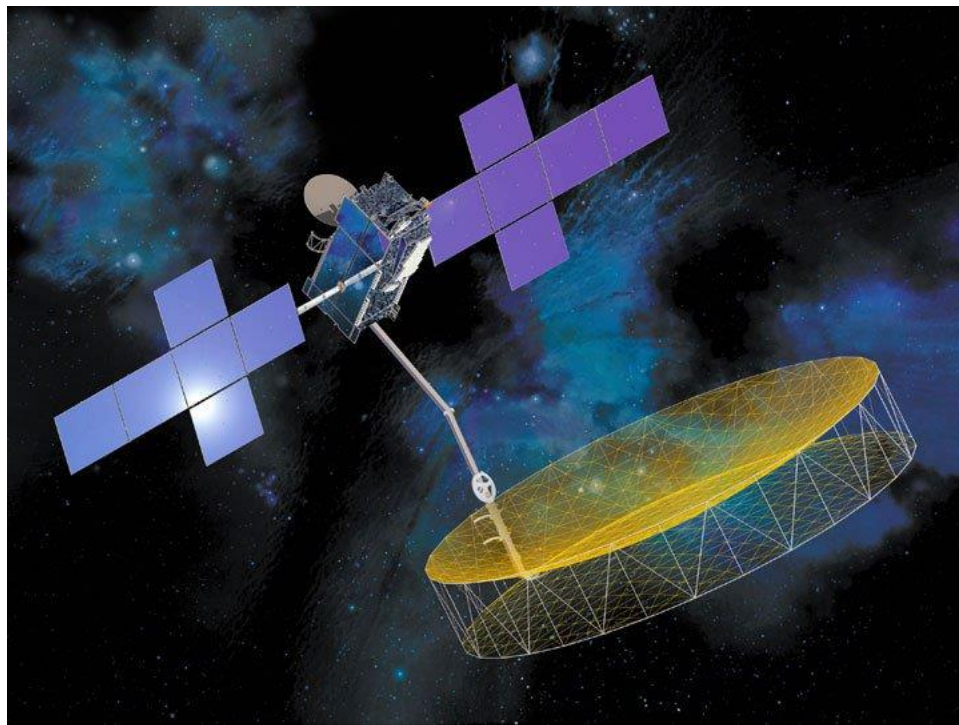

Thus, the analysis of photographs of disasters (trace glyphs) gave Valery Alekseevich enough information to form the following conclusions:

1. The subtle world reacts to rocket launches by displaying faces and inscriptions in Russian.
2. If the spacecraft is currently harmless, but in the future, it may pose a danger to earthlings, the trace glyph contains the face of the mime Mara.
3. Reading the signatures on the trace glyphs explained that this priestess of Mokosh checks the internal contents of the launched rockets. In other words, Mima Makoshi is engaged in space inspection. And if there are suspicious cargoes inside the rocket, it shares this information with other priests. But it itself does not detonate the rocket.
4. Note that sometimes he is characterized as a Scythian (the MASK of the SCYTHIAN OF the TEMPLE OF MARY), sometimes as a YAROV WARRIOR. - I believe that this priest is responsible for detonating a missile that threatens people.
5. I note that the listed characters do not hide their presence and boldly interfere in the actions of people, keeping our planet from danger. They act like caring parents, not letting Earthlings, like children, play with dangerous toys.

However, for completeness and detail of the picture, the reading of trace glyphs must be supplemented with a chronological analysis of space disasters in relation to global socio-political upheavals and astronomical events in near space.

The key to this angle of analysis was given back in 2011 by Nikolai Levashov in one of his meetings with readers, talking about the accidentally surfaced fact that the rocket was overloaded with an additional ton of fuel, and about the undeclared psychotronic stuffing of the Phobos-Grunt device, launched on the eve of mass social protests on Bolotnaya Square. Later, information about the failed coup in December 2011 was publicly confirmed by an unwitting participant in those events, the German entrepreneur, Sterligov.

And since 2011, the Russian Scientific and Technical Society, founded by Nikolai Viktorovich, has repeatedly warned about the impossibility of launching undeclared psychotronic generators into space. Attempts at space launch of psi technologies with a crowd aggression program are regularly and effectively blocked by the native Earth control system, revived in 2011. Only the brainless obstinacy of the conceptual executors of the parasitic system, contrary to warnings and common sense, planning state coups or the introduction of an emergency again and again, causes bewilderment. By the way, it was because of the lack of psi generators that it took so long to rock the Ukrainian Maidan, the main sponsor Kolomoisky almost went bankrupt on the purchase of captagon (amphetamine of revolutions) for cannon fodder.

From mid-December 2016 to mid-January 2017, launches of three American Echostar satellites are planned. Two in the USA, one in Russia.

1. Dmitry Medvedev ordered the launch of the American satellite EchoStar-21 from Baikonur. The launch date of the Proton-M rocket with an American satellite was approved for 22 December, 2016. <http://special.itar-tass.com/kosmos/3879737>

2. Lockheed Martin Commercial Launch Services announced the conclusion of a contract with EchoStar for the launch of the EchoStar 19 spacecraft. The Atlas V rocket was chosen as the carrier. The launch site is Cape Canaveral. The launch date is 18 December, 2016.

3. The launch of the Echostar-23 satellite by the Falcon-9 launch vehicle is scheduled for mid-January 2017.

The launch of the Echostar-21 satellite from Baikonur, on the eve of 25 December over the territory of Russia, is timed to the anniversary of the collapse of the USSR, 25 years ago, on the Jewish holiday of Hanukkah, Mikhail Gorbachev announced his resignation of the presidency. A number of fundamental legal documents were formalized by this term on this date. Serious socio-political events are expected in Russia, and it is not surprising that the personnel of the Ministry of Emergency Situations of Russia and the territorial authorities, and the forces of the Russian Emergencies Ministry in Russia will switch to a "high alert mode" before the New Year holidays, beginning 25 December. The regime will be in effect until 15 January, 2017.

The facts of the use of psychotronic technologies are becoming more and more obvious with each new attempt to launch them. For example, American partners are already preemptively warning about upcoming attempts to turn on psychotronics on their satellites, spreading techno-tales:

The US Air Force has recognized the fact that seven weather satellites launched into the Earth's orbit may explode as well as the DMSP-F13 spacecraft, which suffered an explosion on 3 February, 2015, the website "pravda.ru" writes.

US Air Force experts suggest that the probable cause of the DMSP-F13 crash was a short circuit in the onboard battery device. The aforementioned satellites are equipped with exactly the same batteries, which puts them at risk. <http://www.pravda.ru/news/world/northamerica/24-07-2015/1268393-space-0/>

The disconnected life support of the brain of social parasites, provokes an auto-motor fading agony of thoughts and actions. Unable to realize the fact of the automatic blocking of the launch of psychotropic satellites with programs for manipulating the consciousness of the crowd, they continue fruitless attempts with the persistence of a masochist.

A typical indicator of malicious intent is the adjustment of the launch date of the satellite to the upcoming social explosions. The purpose of such provocations of the crowd is the introduction of a state of emergency, and the justification of martial law, to create a regime of absolute Tyranny.

Earlier, starting with the fiasco with Phobos-Grunt before Bolotnaya, various launch vehicles, various spaceports, including floating launch pads and submarine-launched ballistic missiles were tested. Each time such launches ended in failure. Either in the first minutes after takeoff, or by disabling satellites. The chronology of these events is analyzed in detail, in my previous article - Psychotronics of the Kremlin marmots.

Hillary is dead, long live Hillary

The launch of the Echostar-19 satellite, from Cape Canaveral, by the Atlas-5 rocket, on the eve of 19 December, when the final vote of the US electors for the election of the president will take place. The intensity of passions in this election campaign has reached its maximum intensity. Liberal globalists have no other ways to compromise the newly elected President Trump, except for his emphatically pragmatic and loyal attitude towards Russia. Therefore, the degree of Russophobic hysteria in the central media, and even the official statements of the White House, has passed into the stage of paranoid animal hatred. No one could imagine that such a thing was possible in principle.

According to an independent journalist, Benjamin Fulford, from 2016.12.12, the agonizing faction of the Zion-fascist ruling clans is planning spectacular terrorist operations under a false flag between 12 and 19 December, in a desperate attempt to prevent the formal approval of Donald Trump for the post of US president.

According to the American blogdrome, a nuclear charge was illegally delivered to Manhattan, to the area of Trump Tower, where the new president has his headquarters, as indicated by the sharply jumped radiation background in the city. However, a specialized US Air Force C-130 transporter, dispatched by security forces to search for a radiation source, scanned the territory for 1.5 hours and failed to find it.

Additionally, Fulford's informant at the CIA reports that "Obama, as a public actor of the corporate US government, secretly joined the International Criminal Court (ICC) in 2010. Where 10 years ago George Bush received presidential immunity for the Bush/Clinton criminal clans. The term of the immunity expires on 31 December, 2016."

The launch of the Echostar-23 satellite, from Cape Canaveral, by a Falcon-9 rocket, obviously carries the meaning of a control shot, and is timed to coincide with the date of President Trump's inauguration in the White House.

After the total loss of Hillary Clinton's presidential campaign, her death after a speech on 19/11/2016, the mafia faction of the Zionist fascist clans Bush/Clinton/Rockefeller, is interested in creating social chaos, with the aim of imposing martial law, and canceling presidential elections, thus leaving its performers in power in the United States.

In support of this version, on 15 December, Hillary Clinton's double hosted a farewell party in Manhattan, in order to thank rich sponsors from around the world who invested more than $ 1.2 billion dollars in her election campaign. The money will be returned with a profit, because, in the last days of his presidency, Barack Obama allocated $8 billion dollars (Ulyukayev and Zakharchenko look like small tweezers against the background of such a grandiose greyhound cut) to the Joe Biden Foundation in search of cancer treatment. The list of sponsors (creditors) is headed by the Saudi royal family, the Rothschild and Rockefeller clans, who died on 17 November, Soros, Buffett, the Ukrainian Chabad, Kuchma's son-in-law Pinchuk, the Russian Skolkovo oligarch Vekselberg, Cherkizon tsar Ismailov, a host of Jewish billionaires, and many other representatives of the golden million. On the same day, Obama prematurely and unexpectedly celebrated Hanukkah at the White House, and announced his own evacuation from the country on vacation to Hawaii. The situation resembles the textbook episode of Gorbachev's self-removal to the dacha on Fors in August 1991. On the eve of the theatrical coup of the GKCHP. Visionary analysts have already noted the parallels between Gorbachev the reformer and Obama, as well as Yeltsin the destroyer and Trump. In the words of Popandopulo - "My heart feels, that we are on the eve of a grand ruse!"

"Michelle and I want to be the first to wish you a happy Hanukkah. I think we are still the first, because we do it 10 days before the holiday (in 2016, Hanukkah is celebrated from 24 December to 1 January, 2017)," Obama said.

The President explained that he and Michelle would be in Hawaii during the holiday, so they decided to congratulate everyone in advance. This time, a Hanukkah lamp from the family of Nobel Peace Laureate Elie Wiesel (a Holocaust historian who died in the summer of 2016) was delivered to the White House specially for the ceremony. Also present at the White House were relatives of former Israeli President Shimon Peres, who died in September.

Briefly recall the previous system-blocked attempts to launch psychotronic generators.

On 1 December, 2016, the Progress M S-04 truck, launched from Baikonur, crashed. On this day, a whole series of loud provocations were planned. The Ukrainian rocket firing in Crimea was part of the plan, but failed, due to non-flying weather, many airlines canceled their flights to Crimea that day. Another carefully prepared operation to demonize Russia and drag it into the war has failed. At the same time, there were presidential elections in Austria in Europe, and a constitutional referendum in Italy. Also, quite unexpectedly, violent street protests broke out in Greece, and unannounced, brutally suppressed civil unrest in Brussels. The lack of psychotronic support nullified all the futile attempts of the Zionists to incite social protests and pogroms.

On 1 September, 2016, the explosion of SpaceX's Falcon 9 launch vehicle at the launch pad at Cape Canaveral Florida, disrupted the ambitious project of Facebook founder Mark Zuckerberg to expand the audience of the social network, which, accordingly, should have led to an increase in its capitalization. Amos-6 is the second satellite built by the Israeli company - Israel Aerospace Industries, using the AMOS 4000 space platform. One of the founders of Facebook, Dustin Moskowitz sponsored Hillary Clinton along with George Soros. Mark Zuckerberg, in turn, in the same September 2016, was accused of information dictatorship, censorship, manipulation of presidential elections and political bias in favor of Hillary Clinton.

Facebook critics in the USA have drawn attention to a very strange story that happened to the trending Facebook news site on 11-12 September, 2016 in connection with a painful incident with the US presidential candidate from the Democratic Party, Hillary Clinton. Immediately after the news about the emergency medical care provided to Clinton after her fall at a memorial ceremony in New York became the top in all world news, this topic became number one in all social networks present in the United States, including Facebook. However, the next day, the news about Clinton's condition disappeared from the top of Facebook news, although the topic remained one of the main ones in the national broadcasting of television, radio and other US media. A special search on the topic "Hillary Clinton collapse" showed that only 28,992 people discussed this topic on Facebook that day among American users. And the theme "Hillary Clinton faints" gathered only one thousand people. Observers of Facebook's political trends found this incredible. Too little. This "strangeness" confirmed the previously expressed fear that in the current presidential election campaign Facebook is not just playing on the side of the Democrats, but specifically for the election of Hillary Clinton.

On the air of WABC-TV (aka ABC7, the New York branch of ABC News), announcer Joe Torres hastily announced Hillary's death. After speaking at the site of the destroyed twin towers on the anniversary of 911, Clinton fainted, and her campaign headquarters remained silent for an hour and a half, after which a statement was published by Lisa Bardak's attending physician about the diagnosis of pneumonia in the candidate. A piquant detail is that the unconscious body was not taken to the hospital, nor to her home, but to her daughter Chelsea at 21 East 26th Street. According to the New York State Department of Health, this building previously housed a hospital. As reported on the ministry's website, "the institution was closed or transferred to another institution." A natural suspicion arose: is there a personal clinic of Clinton there, especially since she flatly refused to be hospitalized? As we remember, on the same day, the updated Clinton came out of this house, cheerfully greeting journalists and fans, and after that day, she never coughed, and during the heroic video session she did not disdain to hug a little girl, not afraid to infect her, a wonderful deliverance from bacterial pneumonia in the last stage, is not true-Is it?

It is possible that, coupled with the symbolic death of Hillary, this catastrophe with the Facebook satellite was a key factor in the defeat of Clinton, and in her person of the entire international liberal globalists.

The opinion of an Amateur from science...

"EVERYTHING THAT HAPPENS excludes accidents. Absolutely everything is manageable, including processes related to the "management" of people. And no Zuckerbergs with their Facebook(s), and even more so all those who believe that something can be changed through this, CANNOT influence anything, no matter how much they would like it. This is the 10th attempt in the last 4 years. Conclusions are not being drawn, but in vain. It was said - "IT WON'T FLY..." and this time - IT DIDN'T FLY. Change the satellite filling..."

Separately, it is worth noting the fact of the gradual elimination of satellites hostile to the development of mankind, put into orbit before the launch of the blocking program. In February 2009, Nikolai Viktorovich Levashov reported a side effect of his fight against hurricanes. When the meteorological weapon system was destroyed, "first of all, the most active part of it at that time reacted - the US military satellite, in which all electronics failed! And the already uncontrollable piece of iron began to change its trajectory, which caused a collision with a Russian military satellite! As a result of their collision, debris was formed, which had already fallen to the ground in places. If it wasn't for this accidental collision of satellites, no one would ever have known that the American satellite was destroyed."

Since the departure of N.V. Levashov, military and formally non-military satellites have been regularly breaking down, exploding and going out of orbit. It is logical to assume that, as in the case of the program for blocking the launches of psychotronic generators, there are other programs under the control of the control system, the side effect of which is the elimination of satellites harmful to humanity.

This is exactly what happened on the eve of the launch of the American satellite Echostar-21 announced by Dmitry Medvedev. Two news items appeared on the same day on 17 December, and most likely have a direct connection with each other:

1. One of the GLONASS satellites has stopped functioning, RIA Novosti reports. Roscosmos reported that the 737 device in orbit broke down, and a backup 723 device will replace it. The GLONASS System Control Center stated that the failed Glonass-M satellite No. 737 is being investigated by the chief designer of the system from 00:00 Moscow time on 15 December. There is hope that it will be repaired. At the same time, it is not reported what exactly happened to the device and what the malfunction may turn out to be. - <http://mir24.tv/news/Science/15464224>

The launch of the Russian Proton-M carrier rocket with the American EchoStar-21 communications spacecraft has been postponed from 22 December to 28 December. "The preliminary new launch date and time is 28 December at 19:26 Moscow time," TASS quoted a source in the rocket and space industry as saying. The reason for the transfer is unknown. - <http://www.kommersant.ru/doc/3174487>

2. Similarly, on 28 March, 2016, two satellites at once, the American military meteorological Flight 19 entered an uncontrolled state. The US Space Command officially announced its loss. And the latest development of the Japanese, the Hitomi spacecraft, which was supposed to study black holes, seems to have exploded and replenished the landfill of space debris in near-Earth orbit. <http://www.vesti.ru/videos/show/vid/675040/cid/1100/>

It is obvious that after the unsuccessful launch of 13 new military satellites on a Super Strype rocket, from Hawaii on 3 November, 2015, an attempt was made in 2016 to resuscitate an 18-year-old military psychotronic satellite in connection with the latest terrorist attacks.

Earlier, according to the revolutionary tradition, Nemtsov's death was attempted to be used at a rally in his memory on 1 March, 2015, when on 3 February, a US military satellite, DMSP-F13 suddenly lost control, and it was torn into 43 parts.
